A second round draft choice of the Rangers in 2015, Ryan Gropp has spent the majority of the last three campaigns skating with the Hartford Wolf Pack in the AHL. He spent four seasons with the Seattle Thunderbirds of the WHL prior to turning pro and established career highs in goals (35), assists (49), points (84) and plus/minus (+25) in 2016-17.

- Draws inspiration from his mother, Colleen, who is a breast cancer survivor. Said Gropp: “She was diagnosed when I was 15 years old and I remember feeling devastated. But she was so strong through everything, and our family really came together and rallied around each other. She is in remission now. Any time I feel down, I remember what she went through. She’s a huge role model for me.”
- Parents are Brent and Colleen. Brent played Division I College hockey at Colorado for four years. He currently owns an advertising business. Colleen is a school and family consultant. Has a younger brother, Matthew
- Grew up a huge fan of the Calgary Flames. Lists his hockey idol as Jarome Iginla
